

Rings, Rings and Rings

WHAT kind do you desire? We have made a reputation for reliability in our jewelry business and will be pleased to have your patronage, believing that it will be mutually satisfactory.

The loss of stones from our settings is practically unheard of, because the workmanship is inspected and thoroughly tested before an article leaves the store.

High priced rings and low priced rings here, plain or fancy, solid or plated, according to your wish. Repairing of jewelry done in all its branches. Watches and clocks regulated.

ELITE JEWELRY CO., PRICE, UT.

PURELY PERSONAL

—Mayor Ben P. Moss of Helper was in Price but evening on business.

—Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Nenor were in Price Wednesday from Castle Gate.

—H. R. Charlstrom of Mohrland was among the Tavern's guests during the week.

—Mrs. Preston Nutter and children of the Nine Mile country are visiting in California.

—A. J. Lee was transacting business at Black Hawk and Biswather last Tuesday.

—Mrs. E. Banisch of Black Hawk was shopping in Price last Monday between trains.

—B. L. Lewis of Scofield was a visitor in the city this week, being registered at the Tavern.

—R. H. Kirkpatrick returned to Castle Gate Monday after a visit to Clear Creek and Winter Quarters.

—Mrs. Ada Bryner Huffman is visiting here from Salt Lake City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Bryner.

—O. T. Brooks of Brooks Furniture company returned Wednesday from a business trip of several days at Salt Lake City.

—Byron Miller is down this week from Salt Lake City visiting with the family of his brother, J. Hes. Miller, and friends here.

—Edgar C. Dodge, scale inspector for the Utah Fuel company, visited Winter Quarters and the other upper camps the early part of the week.

—A. E. Gibson, my steward of mines at Shars, was visiting with his daughter at Price last Saturday. The young lady is going to school here.

—Mrs. Vilate Howard and Mrs. Vilate Woods of Huntington were Tavern guests during the week en route home from a visit to Salt Lake City.

—C. A. Gulwitz is marketing fine apparatus from the Mohr ranch at Elgin, which place he recently purchased.—Green River Dispatch, 7th.

—Judge F. E. Woods was transacting legal business at Castle Dale and Huntington the first of the week, where he has a substantial clientele.

—George A. Murphy of the Independent Coal and Coke company was in Price on Tuesday last, driving from here to camp in a new car that he bought at Price.

—Preston Nutter was out in the Uintah Basin country last week, looking after some of his cattle which wintered there. They were found to be in good shape.

—Anthony Madson of Scofield was in the county seat last Saturday and Sunday. He went from here to Salt Lake City. His live stock interests brought him to Price.

—Mrs. D. C. Gibson of Helper was a welcome visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Humphrey, last week. She returned home Friday.—Salina Call, 7th.

—Harold D. Bates, stenographer at Black Hawk for the United States Post company, leaves there the first of the month for New York City to work for E. L. Carpenter.

—Mrs. Lydia Avery returned to her home at Wellington last Saturday after a visit of several days with her son, James Simmons, who is renting the Milburn ranch west of Price.

—Jesse D. Jewkes, state treasurer, has been in Carbon and Emery counties this week on "road work"—the road that leads to his nomination for state auditor of Utah Republicans.

—Preston Nutter and his nephew, T. C. Nutter, came in from the former's Nine Mile ranch Tuesday and Wednesday night to Price Sunday night from Spokane, Wash., and other points in the Northwest. They made the trip at the expense of three Eastern publications which thus represent locally. They report having had the trip of their lives.

—J. M. Jensen was at Price Friday night as one of the judges in a debate between the Carbon county and the Uintah high schools. The debate was on the Mormon doctrine question and was won by the Carbon team, which had the affirmative.—Provo Herald, 8th.

—E. Santschi, Sr., was down from Black Hawk last Tuesday, appearing before the board of county commissioners on road matters in which the people of his town are very much interested. The mines over south are each working about three days each week.

—F. L. Reese, one of the oldest citizens of Carbon county in point of residence, was in Price last Wednesday and yesterday. He is now employed by the United States Fuel company at Black Hawk. His reminiscences of early days here are most interesting.

—Rev. E. L. Mills and Dr. D. Forsythe were here Wednesday looking after affairs at Price academy. The latter is one of four in charge of all the educational work of the Methodist church in Utah. Both gentlemen were pleased with the conditions found at Price.

—Mrs. C. W. Shores, wife of Chief of Police Shores, reached Salt Lake City last night from Denver, Colo. Mrs. Shores is well known in Salt Lake City, having been on the faculty of a school here several years ago. Mrs. Shores is registered at the Newhouse Hotel.—Salt Lake Telegram, 11th.

—Arthur J. Lee came back from the republican state committee meeting at Salt Lake City last Sunday. He thinks the democrats of the state are lining up for Apostle Lyman for their nominee for governor. Apostle Lyman is the father-in-law of D. D. Houts, counsel for the United States Fuel company.

—J. C. Twaddle of Sunnyside came over to Price last Sunday by automobile and continued his journey to Zion on the evening train. "Our camp is working fine," said he. "More men are being put on at the coke ovens and at the mines. Everyone over our way is prosperous, contented and glad that things are as good as they are."

—William H. Pitwater, postmaster at Duchesne, has written that he has moved the postoffice into his new building and that he has the most up-to-date postoffices in the Uintah Basin, including Vernal. The postoffice at Duchesne, he says, handles more mail than all the other twenty-three postoffices in Duchesne county.—Salt Lake Telegram, 11th.

—J. Allen Black of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Algot Petersen of Salt Lake City are in Myton looking for locations. Petersen is in receipt of letters from Kansas friends stating that thousands of railroad ties are piled up there as well as rails and grading outfitts, presumably for use in extending the Union Pacific from that point into the basin.—Myton Free Press, 11th.

—W. J. Elwood, general superintendent of the mines at Standardville, was transacting business in Price last Saturday. He states that the Standard property is working two or three days a week at this time.

—Thomas T. Lamph, superintendent of the mines at Standardville, was transacting business in Price last Saturday. He states that the Standard property is working two or three days a week at this time.

—J. E. Wallace, lessee of the Cook ranch, has returned from Price, where he went to meet his son and family. Himself and son expect to raise considerable hay and grain this summer.

—J. E. Thompson, general superintendent and William Littlejohn, superintendent of Utah Fuel company mines at Castle Gate, were in Price Tuesday on matters before the board of county commissioners.

—J. E. Wallace has returned from Price, bringing in his son and family who have arrived from Kansas and will make their home here. Wallace having an Indian lease a few miles west of town.—Myton Free Press, 11th.

—Miss Violet Grange of Huntington was a guest of the Tavern last Sunday, going to Salt Lake City, and was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Hill of that city. Both Miss Grange and Mrs. Hill will undergo operations at this week.

—Alex Pace was in Price this week from his sheep herd, which is now running between Moab and Woodside. His flocks are in good condition, but the range is not up to what it might be. He will likely shear at Moab next week.

—W. M. Black, who has been with Webster Lumber company at Price for a couple of years, has resigned his position and left recently for Idaho. He has quite a large ranch in the Gem State and is to devote his time for a while to the improvement.

—J. J. Schultz of Black Hawk registered at the Tavern Tuesday evening. He had been to Salt Lake City with his brother, J. Cameron Schultz, who recently underwent an operation there for appendicitis. When he left his brother was doing all right.

—Judge Ferdinand Erickson was doing Price and Sunnyside this week, turning to Zion on Wednesday. The judge is very optimistic as to democratic success in Utah at the coming fall election. He predicts a democratic governor and a full slate ticket.

—Guy and Theodore Thomas got back to Price Sunday night from Spokane, Wash., and other points in the Northwest. They made the trip at the expense of three Eastern publications which thus represent locally. They report having had the trip of their lives.

—J. M. Jensen was at Price Friday night as one of the judges in a debate between the Carbon county and the Uintah high schools. The debate was on the Mormon doctrine question and was won by the Carbon team, which had the affirmative.—Provo Herald, 8th.

—Emery Larsen, Castle Dale leading bisonorial artist, came over from the south last Tuesday to hear the Hawaiian singers at a local theater.

—Mrs. John Hurst, accompanied by her two sons, Phillip J. and H. H. Hurst, were overland arrivals here the first of the week from Corvallis, Wash., en route to Moffat, where they are to improve the ranch of Mrs. Ned Nichols of Placerville, Nev. They drove the entire distance from Washington, and state that the worst roads encountered on the trip were in Willow Creek, above Helper. Mrs. Nichols is expected in Price shortly on her way to the Uintah Basin country.

—Mrs. John Hurst, accompanied by her two sons, Phillip J. and H. H. Hurst, were overland arrivals here the first of the week from Corvallis, Wash., en route to Moffat, where they are to improve the ranch of Mrs. Ned Nichols of Placerville, Nev. They drove the entire distance from Washington, and state that the worst roads encountered on the trip were in Willow Creek, above Helper. Mrs. Nichols is expected in Price shortly on her way to the Uintah Basin country.

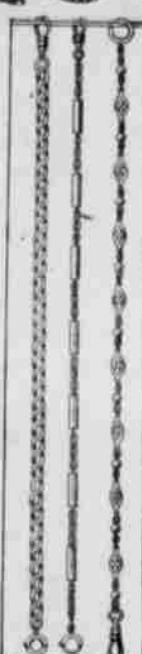

—Emery Larsen, Castle Dale leading bisonorial artist, came over from the south last Tuesday to hear the Hawaiian singers at a local theater.

—Mrs. John Hurst, accompanied by her two sons, Phillip J. and H. H. Hurst, were overland arrivals here the first of the week from Corvallis, Wash., en route to Moffat, where they are to improve the ranch of Mrs. Ned Nichols of Placerville, Nev. They drove the entire distance from Washington, and state that the worst roads encountered on the trip were in Willow Creek, above Helper. Mrs. Nichols is expected in Price shortly on her way to the Uintah Basin country.

—Mrs. Lydia Avery returned to her home at Wellington last Saturday after a visit of several days with her son, James Simmons, who is renting the Milburn ranch west of Price.

—Jesse D. Jewkes, state treasurer, has been in Carbon and Emery counties this week on "road work"—the road that leads to his nomination for state auditor of Utah Republicans.

—Preston Nutter and his nephew, T. C. Nutter, came in from the former's Nine Mile ranch Tuesday and

DEMONSTRATION WORK GOING ON

EXCELLENT SUGGESTIONS FROM PROF. R. H. STEWART

Warnings Given Carbon and Emery County Farmers Concerning Disease Grain and Potatoes—Expert Is Trying to Reach Every Community Throughout His Large Territory

I find in making visits to each town in Carbon and Emery counties that a great many farmers are treating their pastures for the diseases that our potatoes here, as a whole, are infected with, and for the smut disease that are attacking our small grains. I also find some farmers who are paying no attention to those diseases whatsoever," says Prof. Frank H. Stewart, county farm demonstrator. "These plant diseases, which are very bad, are among us and we must combat them. Farmers should not take any hit and miss chances, but prepare to combat the disease by treating seed before planting." Here are the formulas which Professor Stewart recommends to treat seed:

Oat Smut Eradication.

Make a solution of formalin (formaldehyde) at the rate of one pint formalin (40 per cent strength) to thirty gallons of water (measured quantities—not guesses). Soak seed oats in this for four minutes. A bushel of oats in a burlap sack is easily handled. Take out, drain and let dry in open air. It can be planted as soon as it becomes sufficiently dry to pass through a grain drill. The same treatment may be applied to wheat for the smut smut and for the loose smut of barley. However, forty gallons of water should be used and not just thirty.

As to Potato Diseases.

Select the seed and reject all that shows a brown streak on the inside of the potato. This can be determined by cutting a thin slice off the stem end. Pour fifteen gallons of water (measured) into a wooden barrel. Add to this two ounces of bicarbonate of mercury (corrosive sublimate) dissolved in a little hot water. Stir well with a wooden paddle. Soak the selected seed for one and a half hours. Each bushel of the solution is good to treat four batches of potatoes. This would be about eight or ten bushels.

"Crop rotation should be practiced more," says Professor Stewart. "If possible do not plant the same crop in the same piece of ground any two years in succession. This rule should apply particularly to the cereal crops and potatoes, as the plant diseases that attack these crops remain in the soil sometimes for as long as five years after the crop has been grown.

This season I am trying to make it possible to reach each community in the two counties twice a month and am doing co-operative work in potatoes, sugar beets, farm management and dairying as my major projects in addition to a number of minor projects."

but was disappointed by reason of the fact that the troubadours failed to keep their date at Price. "We are all enthusiastic over the prospects of that sugar factory and railroad," said he, "and will do anything in reason to secure them. Since the meeting at Castle Dale last week an additional two hundred acres for beets have been pledged by a newcomer to the county from Idaho."

N. E. Nelson was here this week from Mt. Pleasant, looking after his banking and other interests. He is looking and feeling well since his return from the Pacific Coast, where himself and family recently spent considerable time. Sanpete county blacksmiths are getting their herds to the shearing corrals for the very biggest crop of wool that has been harvested in years. Stock of every description in Southern Utah, he states, went through the winter well. Crops of all kinds are promising exceptionally well.

Lient. V. H. Bell, in charge of the local United States army recruiting office, will leave this morning for Mt. Pleasant, where he has been ordered to open an auxiliary recruiting station. Orders have also been received for the opening of a station at Tintic Falls, Idaho, and at Price, and as soon as the necessary equipment can be obtained there will accept applicants. The station to be opened today will be the fifth of a series authorized by headquarters during the past month to obtain an increase of twenty-five thousand men to recruit the army to war strength.—Salt Lake Tribune, 11th.

—Charles Christensen, a former business man of Price and also engaged in the sheep business while a resident here, was down from Salt Lake City this week removing old friendships. He went to Black Hawk last Monday to visit with his son there, Fred C. Christensen. The former is now engaged in mining in Nevada and in improving a big ranch in the Delta section of Millard county. He expects to make some money out of his mining property this year.

—Mrs. John Hurst, accompanied by her two sons, Phillip J. and H. H. Hurst, were overland arrivals here the first of the week from Corvallis, Wash., en route to Moffat, where they are to improve the ranch of Mrs. Ned Nichols of Placerville, Nev. They drove the entire distance from Washington, and state that the worst roads encountered on the trip were in Willow Creek, above Helper. Mrs. Nichols is expected in Price shortly on her way to the Uintah Basin country.

—Mrs. Lydia Avery returned to her home at Wellington last Saturday after a visit of several days with her son, James Simmons, who is renting the Milburn ranch west of Price.

—Jesse D. Jewkes, state treasurer, has been in Carbon and Emery counties this week on "road work"—the road that leads to his nomination for state auditor of Utah Republicans.

—Preston Nutter and his nephew, T. C. Nutter, came in from the former's Nine Mile ranch Tuesday and

Rush---

What's the most important to you if you want a job of Mill Work is to get it when you want it.

Have your chairs or table repaired today.

We make a specialty of getting out Odd Sash, Doors and Screens.

Call Phone No. 122 for particulars about the L-V Dust Cloth given with each fifty-cent bottle of Liquid Veneer.

ASSISTS STEWART IN WORK LOCALLY

FIGURING WITH NEW YORK CAPITAL
EMERY RAILROAD.

In the event that the Denver & Rio Grande should not be in a position to construct a branch line railroad from Price or some point on its main line into Emery county, when the time comes for the factory of the Utah-Dale Sugar crowd, it is believed all the more wanted for the project may be in New York City. At least such information given out as Lake City source to The Sun.

Richard W. Young, attorney president of the Granite Stake of Zion, is said to have been working on a railroad project of the latter mentioned for a considerable time. Major Young is in close touch with the sugar crowd at Salt Lake City and what he has done is no doubt his knowledge and section. Major Young is a heavy stockholder in the Price River Irrigation company and has big land holdings out on Bear Creek.

The Denver & Rio Grande is surveying for a road from Price in Huntington Canyon, and from the Kingdom Gould jet drop about Huntington branch, while it is to be built a few days ago, it is to look as if it is building might be seriously considered with an eye to the money market. The coal lands, the Quigley holdings and other interests south of Price sooner or later to bring a railroad.

In the meantime the people of Emery county are at work on a flat top road to be promoted at the recent Day sugar factory meeting, and will be in position to tell what he will be to offer a building company.

FUNDS ARE APPORTIONED TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There are thirty-four hundred more school children in Utah than at this time a year ago, so this increase in the number of children, the per capita amount of state has this year for each child education is larger than last year.

The apportionment of funds to the schools was apportioned last Monday by Dr. E. G. Green, state superintendent of public instruction. The total apportionment is $312,377.72. This is the second largest apportionment of the year schools from the state funds to first was made in January.

Last year the state's apportionment to the schools was $21,147 for each child of school age. This year per capita apportionment was $12. The total school population is 124,942.

The apportionment now being made is from the state district school and the land interest and rental land. In the first fund there is $229,222 available and in the second there is $182,656.25.

The largest apportionment goes to Salt Lake City, which receives $48,257. Carbon county gets $10,600 with a school population of 27,616. Emery $14,622.86, having this 2,216 school children.

The Sun guarantees its circulation of between twelve and thirteen hundred copies weekly. Circulation books open to all.

Smoke Elk Prida Cigar. Tel. 112.

You Don't Have to Come to This Store to Select Your Meats

Leave that to us. Phone your order and the tenderloin, filet mignon, steak, chop, or any other cut of meat will be on the way to your home in a jiffy. Our pleased patrons are our best advertisers.

We carry at all times a complete stock of Fancy Groceries, Fresh and Vegetables,